ABOUT US

TRON THE TRUST

Tron The Trust participation in the financial markets in comparison to investing, which works on a buy-and-hold strategy. The success of trading is dependent on the ability of a trader to be profitable over a period of time. A trader is a person who gets involved in buying and selling of a financial asset in any financial market. He or she can buy or sell either for himself/herself or on behalf of another individual or institution. The main difference between an investor and a trader is the duration for which he or she holds on to the asset. A trader is a person who engages in the short-term purchasing and selling of an equity either for an institution or for themselves. The disadvantages of trading include - capital gains taxes which inapplicable to trades and the expenses of paying brokers in the form of multiple commission rates.
